Building an interactive Bohairic Coptic thematic lexicon

Objectives of the project, working title, ‘сωтēм’

RESOURCES:

to create a thematic lexicon that documents examples of each lexical item- Which genre, which time.

» (and by that) Gradually creating a linked and annotated corpora of Bohairic.

COMMUNITY:

To offer a space which facilitates a digital publication of teaching materials and promotes an open discussion about the lexicon (and grammar, phonology) of “spoken” Bohairic.

Сωтēм is not online yet, it will soon be available at:

Q: What does BOHAIRIC stands for?

A: When we say Bohairic Coptic we refer to a several linguistic varieties:

WRITTEN (LITERARY) EVIDENCE

Early varieties- earlier sources, paleo/old Bohairic.

(Such as P. Bodmer III; P. Vat. Copto 9; P. Heid. Kopt 452; P. Mich. Inv. No. 926;
P.Mich.Copt. III.3; BL Or. 739; Bal. 19.)

(aka “B4” and its sub-varieties aka B74 (Type of south Bohairic), B74!, and B504-507*?.)

-no written evidence from 5th to 9th centuries.-

“Nitrian” (=Scetian)- texts originating from the Monastery of St. Macarius.

‘Scriptural’/ classical bible “medieval” Bohairic- (aka “B5”)

Q: What does BOHAIRIC stands for?

A: When we say Bohairic Coptic we refer to a several linguistic varieties:

SPOKEN EVIDENCE

1/ An Egyptian dialect of the region of lower egypt, gradually declining as a spoken language after Arab conquest.

2/ Bohairic as a liturgical language of entire Coptic church -
Early 2nd millennium, up to this day.

3/ Various attempts of spoken Bohairic in last two centuries.
Based on traditions, scriptures, liturgy and on some lexical innovations.

So what is our actual Corpus?

-Biblical manuscripts. The core corpus, OT and NT.

- OT

Vat. copto 1, Paris copte 1? (ASH, Topics 2007).

- NT

- Job, Psalms, Proverbs

- Major Prophets

- Patristic texts

- martyrologies

- Homelies

- Liturgical compositions

- Philological works

- Private inscriptions (and Graffiti) (Such as documentary texts at Kellia).

Building an interactive Bohairic Coptic thematic lexicon

- Starting by documenting selected OT and NT medieval Bohairic source manuscripts.
- Aiming to create corpora by standards offered by Coptology projects.

Grammatical progression-

Identifying literary and spoken Coptic varieties.

Introduce grammar gradually, accept traditional “conversational” forms that are not documented in written language, but aim to instruct literary grammar for its features and complexity.

If your right eye causes you to stumble, gouge it out and throw it away.
It is better for you to lose one part of your body than for your whole body to be thrown into hell.
(Matthew 5:29)

A practice of grammatical theory

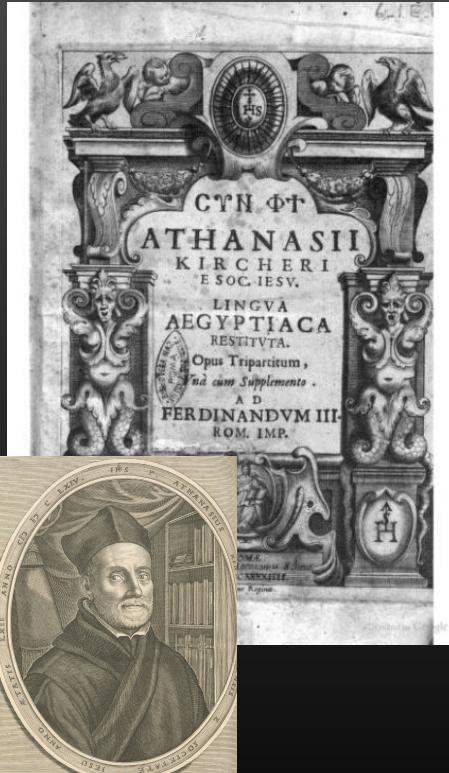

The choice of texts in our textbook is based also on literary varieties of speech representation.

- Recording as much typical direct speech grammatical forms. (Richter 2006).
- using specific narrative vs. dialogue forms (Shisha-Halevy 2007), for telling a story.

UNDER CONSTRUCTION

- Within the first stage of the project (2/2021), website will be up with the database of all words in the coursebook. (not online yet, will be on <https://www.polisjerusalem.org/language/coptic/>, <https://sotem.info>)
- Our goal: Making traditions of lexicography and textual studies more accessible to students of spoken Coptic.
- Using building blocks that are the tools presented by Coptic DH projects, all data will be reviewed and published for reuse by other projects.
- Gradually, the structure of the lexicon, frequency, hapax cases, and loans will be evaluated and displayed.
